Temporary Bridge Is Opened

A temporary bridge has been constructed over the Clark's River on the Concord highway, and has been officially opened.

Opening of the bridge once again allows the normally heavy traffic to continue along this important traffic artery of the county.

The highway is one of the important access routes to fishing sites, camp sites, and resort places in the Concord area and on into Tennessee. It is also the route for many countians who live in that section.

The temporary bridge is also hailed by the numerous business places along the road, which depend on the traffic for their livelihood.

The old, one lane bridge was taken away to begin construction on a new concrete bridge, and detour routes were insufficient to carry the traffic. Wide detours were necessary to reach the Concord area, and much of the time was impossible.

The temporary bridge will be dismantled when the new one is completed sometime in the summer.

Victor Riesel Is Reported Worse

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — "Serious complications" have developed in the condition of labor columnist Victor Riesel, threatened with possible blindness by an acid-throwing thugs' attack, doctors attending the columnist reported Friday night.

"Signs of regression" in Riesel's vision have been noted, the report said. It said more dangerous complications may develop in the next few days.

Police still are searching for the assailant who threw a vial of concentrated sulfuric acid in Riesel's face last week. The reward for the attacker has reached almost $45,000, the New York Daily Mirror said today.

The doctors said "there were regrettable signs of regression" in Riesel's ability to distinguish between visitors. It is necessary, therefore, to be cautious in offering a prognosis.

Map Of Distinction Gyps Louisville Banks

LOUISVILLE, April 14 (AP) — Six Louisville banks today totaled up losses of $2,100 to a dapper confidence man of distinction.

The con man, dressed in a gray suit and homburg hat and speaking in cultured tones, tried his scheme at nine banks, but was turned down at three of them.

At each bank he presented a check for amounts ranging from $500 to $750, made out to cash and signed by legitimate depositors. To avoid suspicion, he deposited perhaps $400 of the amount, pocketed the remainder and walked out.

At three of the banks where tellers insisted on getting the checks approved by an official, the man politely said he would take the check to another bank where he was better known, and left.

Finally, at a branch of the Liberty National Bank he grew so bold that he signed the check with the name of the bank's assistant manager, who is on vacation. The teller insisted on having the check approved, and the man left. The teller told her superiors about the incident, and a telephone check with other banks soon uncovered the swindle.

CORRECTION

Mr. A. P. Slaughter said today that he never did own the field at the Coldwater gravel pit, but he did furnish the seed corn to Tom Vaughn in 1907 to plant it.

That was the last year the field was cultivated. The field now has sixteen inch trees on it.

Huge Carrier To Join U.S. Fleet Today

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — The USS Saratoga, the world's largest and most powerful ship—joins the United States Navy officially today in commissioning ceremonies at the New York Naval Shipyard in Brooklyn.

Rear Adm. Roscoe H. Hillenkoetter, Commander of the 3rd Naval District, will commission the 60,000-ton aircraft carrier in the presence of Secretary of the Navy Charles D. Thomas at 3 p.m. as a flight of Navy planes sweep over the ship.

Capt. Robert J. Stroth of New York will immediately assume command of the 207 million dollar vessel.

Mayor Addison Mallory of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., presented a silver table centerpiece to the ship that had been given originally to the former aircraft carrier Saratoga by that city. The old Saratoga—the fifth American naval vessel of its name—was sunk as a test vessel in the 1946 Bikini atom bomb tests.

The Saratoga, which was christened last October, will begin its sea trials May 7 and is expected to join the fleet later this year for regular duty. It is the second of five giant carriers of the Forrestal class ordered by the Navy for the critical demands of jet warfare.

Outmeasuring the Forrestal by three feet, the Saratoga has four steam catapults that can launch four interceptors, planes, missiles, space for 100 planes including those carrying nuclear weapons, equipment for providing oxygen for its own jets, and a flight deck angled to lift off to facilitate landings.

The 250,000 horsepower engines are the largest of any naval vessel and are capable of more than 30 knots.

Statistics on the Saratoga are staggering. Its length is equivalent to 80 floors of the Empire State Building and it is wide enough to carry the liner United States and America side by side and its deck could accommodate 14,000 standing persons. It cannot pass through the Panama Canal but its masts are hinged so it can pass under the Brooklyn Bridge.

The ship's flight deck is approximately 41 acres and its hangar area 2 acres. Stowage space is equal to a six-story warehouse one block square. Approximately 473 miles of cable, 300,000 fire retardant deck tiles, and 300,000 gallons of paint were used in its construction.

Milliken said his brakes failed at the intersection. Hutcheson's car veered a short distance and when it struck the gravel on the right shoulder of Poplar, the car turned completely around facing the east.

With Hutcheson in the car were his wife and two small children. None of them were injured however.

Milliken's car suffered front end damage and Hutcheson's car suffered damage on the right rear fender, bumper and door.

Investigating officers were Leo Alexander and Rob Lamb.

Girl 13 Marries Man Who Is 49

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 14 (AP) — A hasty 49-year-old ex-serviceman and his petite 13-year-old bride were married two weeks ago and with the blessings of her family, too, it was made known today.

George H. Cole, previously married and the father of four, says he looks upon his wife, the former Joyce Legion, as a child.

"I married this little girl and I'm fond of her," Cole said. "I treat her as if she was one of my own—and, of course, she is my own."

Blessed Joyce, "I'm real happy about it. My mother and daddy approved."

The assembly voted down a proposal to increase the number of state basketball tournament passes allowed school officials.

There was considerable discussion over three proposals by Symsonia principal Cecil Reid dealing with the problem of proselytizing, but no agreement was reached.

Russians Leave For Britain Visit

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP) — Communist Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin left for Britain today on their most important foreign jaunt since they became traveling salesmen for Russia's "new look."

The Soviet leaders trained for the Baltic to board the Russian cruiser Orjanskidze. They are expected to set sail Sunday, and reach Britain Wednesday.

The Russian leaders' departure came at the peak of the biggest "We Love Britain" campaign, ever launched by the Soviet press, radio and television.

Khrushchev and Bulganin have indicated they hope to impress the British with the Soviet "sweetness and light" policy.

British leaders want to corner Bulganin and Khrushchev and discuss specific problems affecting world peace, such as the Middle East, disarmament, Formosa and German reunification.

Western observers here expect Bulganin and Khrushchev to be all smiles.

KHSAA Votes Down Game

LOUISVILLE, April 14 (AP) — The championship of Kentucky high school football will continue to be a matter of opinion only with a proposal to stage a championship game between the Kentucky State High School Athletic Association and the Kentucky State Athletic Association.

The KHSAA legislative body tabled 18 to 27 proposals placed before it, including the football playoff plan, and defeated four others outright. The plan, proposed by Pikeville Principal Bernard Mims, lost only by a vote of 19 to 17, however, and it may be revived another year.

The delegates made one major change in the basketball regulations, boosting from 10 to 12 the number of players a team may dress for a tournament game.

Several changes were made in track and field rules. The provide that the KHSAA will provide shot and discus for regional and state track meets, limit schools to two contestants and one relay team in any one event in regional meets; limit an individual to four events, of which not more than three may be running events; and provide that state meet contestants must enter and finish all events which qualified him for the state meet, or be disqualified from the relay events. This is to prevent hopelessly beaten runners from dropping out of individual events in order to save their energy for relay races later.

The assembly voted down a proposal to increase the number of state basketball tournament passes allowed school officials.

There was considerable discussion over three proposals by Symsonia principal Cecil Reid dealing with the problem of proselytizing, but no agreement was reached.

Estes, Adlai Wind Up Tour In Florida

MIAMI, April 14 (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson wind up their intense competition for Florida primary votes today with speeches in opposite ends of the state.

Their paths crossed briefly Friday in the delight of a large crowd. Stevenson flies to Pensacola in the northwestern part of the state for a television speech on a Gulf Coast network. Kefauver planned a full day of campaigning in the populous Miami area, the Florida's southern tip. Earlier today, Stevenson planned a motorcade tour through the Panama City shopping district.

The two met at noon Friday in front of a cigar factory in Tampa. Stevenson spotted a box of cigars Kefauver had just received as a gift and jokingly asked, "You don't mean you're taking corruption publicly, Estes?"

Stevenson then added, with a laugh, "I was corrupted with a box of cigars privately, at another factory."

Kefauver then pinned a Kefauver button on Stevenson and said "Adlai, I congratulate you on joining the cause."

In a St. Petersburg speech Friday night, Kefauver promised to make a full statement on his stand on the tense Middle East situation before winding up his three-day duel with Stevenson. He said he would not be in favor of using American troops in the Middle East without consent of Congress but said "we must sustain and stick with the democracy of Israel."

Stevenson, charged in a Tampa speech that President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles are falsely telling the nation that "all is well" when actually, "We are now entering a period in our foreign affairs more perilous I fear, than we yet have faced since the last war."

The two Democrats are vying for Florida's 28 votes at the Democratic National Convention. The state's election is next Tuesday.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes Boyd and sixteen year old daughter, Suzette Boyd of Michigan; four sisters, Mrs. Audrey Filds, Murray, Mrs. Tracy Elkins, Mrs. Iva Dunn, Mrs. Ura Dunn all of Michigan, and one half sister, Mrs. Preston Boyd, RFD 2, Murray; one brother, Leon Boyd, Murray and one half-brother, Henry Boyd, Murray.

Mr. Boyd was a member of the Poplar Springs Baptist Church in Callaway County.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at three o'clock at the First Methodist Church with Bro. Lloyd Wilson and Bro. Paul Lyles officiating. Burial will be in the city cemetery.

Active pallbearers are, Pierce McDougal, Herman Moss, Guy Lovins, Albert Crider, Clifford Black, Hubert Garrison, Norman Lovins and Harold Douglas.

Gruenther Steps Out As Army Chief; May Take High Post

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP) — Unofficial reports that Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther may be headed for a top industry post paying up to six figures circulated today among Pentagon officers.

Speculation on the four-star general's future followed the surprise announcement Friday that he will step out as supreme allied commander in Europe late this year and lay aside his Army uniform after 38 years in service. He is 57.

President Eisenhower, in a move that delighted the young but hefty U.S. Air Force, tagged USAF Gen. Lauris Norstad, 49, to succeed Gruenther in command of a 11th North Atlantic Treaty air, ground and naval forces. Airmen here and abroad interpreted the appointment as recognition of air power's dominant importance in Western defenses and of Norstad's status as an officer-diplomat.

Selection of Norstad, a brilliant airman who has been a general officer since he was 36, also touched off speculation on future role for a number of other top-flight air generals in the same or slightly older age bracket. They are being boosted for chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, chief of other major joint commands and Air Force chief of staff when vacancies come up in the next 16 months or so.

The retiring NATO commander said in Paris he had no new employment in view. But the report that a top industry post may be in the wind was making the Pentagon rounds.

Cecil Boyd Passes Away

A former Callaway Countyman, Cecil Boyd, age 40, passed away Wednesday, April 11, at 11:40 a.m. at the New Grace Hospital in Highland Park, Michigan where he has been making his home for several years. Death resulted from complications, following a three and one-half month illness.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes Boyd and sixteen year old daughter, Suzette Boyd of Michigan; four sisters, Mrs. Audrey Filds, Murray, Mrs. Tracy Elkins, Mrs. Iva Dunn, Mrs. Ura Dunn all of Michigan, and one half sister, Mrs. Preston Boyd, RFD 2, Murray; one brother, Leon Boyd, Murray and one half-brother, Henry Boyd, Murray.

Mr. Boyd was a member of the Poplar Springs Baptist Church in Callaway County.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at three o'clock at the First Methodist Church with Bro. Lloyd Wilson and Bro. Paul Lyles officiating. Burial will be in the city cemetery.

America's Churches Suffering From Lack, Preachers, Priests

PITTSBURGH, April 14 (AP) — The churches of the nation will be called upon tonight to face the problem of maintaining Christian ethics in a booming economy with realism.

The call was scheduled to come when the official message of a National Study Conference on the Church and Economic Life is unveiled to the 400 delegates attending the four-day meeting sponsored by the National Council of Churches.

The delegates were expected to adopt the message at their final session on Sunday.

Dr. Justin W. Nixon, Rochester, N.Y., chairman of the 23-member committee which drafted the message, said the document will delineate the relation between the nation's present record economy and the ethics of the Christian faith.

Nixon, said the message would summon the nation's churches to realistically face the problems presented by general prosperity. He said the document will speak only for the conference and not for the council of churches or its members.

A group of the delegates Friday urged the federal government to increase its economic aid to underdeveloped countries and to completely divorce it from military aims. They proposed a reduction of military spending with the savings to be used in the aid program.

Two farm experts also sharply disagreed in speeches on the on-nibus farm bill now before President Eisenhower.

Charles Brannan, secretary of agriculture under President Truman, said he favored the proposed return to rigid price supports but frowned upon a soil bank provision which subsidizes non-production.

Charles B. Shuman, American Farm Bureau president, said he and the 600,000 members of the bureau were solidly opposed to the bill.

Shuman said the bill contained a major conflict between the soil bank program which was designed to shrink agricultural output and the rigid supports which would increase the production incentive.

Judge Ira D. Smith Is Honored

The following article appeared in the April 5 issue of the Hopkinsville, Kentucky, New Era. It concerns Judge Ira D. Smith, who has many friends in Callaway County, who will be pleased to hear of the honor bestowed upon him.

The article is as follows:

"Judge Ira D. Smith, 66-year old Hopkinsville resident and judge of Kentucky's Third Judicial District, was presented with the 1955 'Circuit Judge's Outstanding Service Award' by the Kentucky State Bar Association last night at Louisville.

It was the second straight year the Bar group has honored Judge Smith at its annual convention. He was given the 1955 'Award of Merit'.

"Judge Smith was presented with his award last night as the result of 26 years of outstanding service as circuit judge. He is now in his fifth term in the office, being one of the state's oldest circuit judges in point of service."

"In presenting the award last night, Judge James D. Milliken, chief justice of the court of appeals pointed out, 'The high regard in which Judge Smith is held by his constituents is shown by the fact he has seldom had to face opposition for his office in a primary or general election.'

"Judge Smith has served on the state's Judicial Council, the Legislative Research Commission, and the Constitutional Review Commission as part of his contribution to the Kentucky court system."

"Chief Justice Milliken said of the Hopkinsville judge, 'Courteous and considerate at all times to litigants, officers of the court, his brother lawyers and to the general public, he administers his court with quiet dignity and with dispatch.'

"Judge Smith was born in Hopkinsville on May 17, 1889. Following his graduation from Vanderbilt University, he entered the practice of law here and also went into the field of politics. In 1913 he was elected county attorney of Christian County at the age of 23, which was the minimum age for such an office."

"During World War I he volunteered for service, emerging as an ensign in naval aviation."

"After his discharge from the service, Judge Smith was elected state representative, then Hopkinsville city attorney. He was first chosen circuit judge in 1927 and has held the position since that time."

"During most of his 28 years, the district included the four counties of Christian, Trigg, Lyon and Callaway, but Callaway is no longer in the Third District."

TO PASS UP WEDDING

SEOUL, Korea, April 14 (AP) — A 23-year-old U.S. Army private said today he would pass up his invitation to the wedding of Prince Rainier and Grace Kelly because he would rather see Hong Kong than Monaco.

Pfc. Mike Wise, of New York, said nonchalantly, "The Queen of England turned down an invitation, too."

Wise who knows both Rainier and Miss Kelly, became the envy of every soldier in Seoul when he received an engraved invitation to the wedding and a 20-day leave at the same time.

He shocked them today by declining to spurn the wedding.

"I lived in Europe for three weeks and I've never been to Hong Kong," he explained simply.

Carl M. (Harry) Stout

Stout has set up headquarters in the National Hotel Building on Main street. He invited the public to come in to visit, this headquarters.

U.S. Girl And Royalty Not A New Thing

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN

United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK (AP) — When Harry Payne Whitney married Gertrude Vanderbilt at Newport in 1896 the third orchestra at the wedding struck up the Star Spangled Banner.

Nathan Franko, the conductor, said he couldn't resist. "It is so surely that an American girl of fortune carries one of her own countrymen that I thought the selection decidedly in keeping with the occasion."

It was the high tide of a foreign invasion, European noblemen bedazzled young maidens on the beach at Newport and paced off perfect cotillions in the ballrooms of Fifth Avenue mansions. Before the tide had slackened they had earned the name of "dollar-dukes" and made off with some of the most eligible daughters of American society and an unreckoned amount of wealth.

"Newport is paying too much attention to foreign lords," the elegant Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish pinpointed at the turn of the century. "We are too wild about these counts and dukes. I think we should be independent and inter-marry among ourselves."

Mrs. Fish was overruled. Julia Dent Grant, whose grandfather was a U. S. president, married

Prince Michael Cantacuzene of Russia, a czarist cavalry officer.
 Pauline Whitney landed Americain, Baroness of Marborough, of England.

Marcus Daly, who had made a fortune mining copper in Montana, brought his daughter Harriet to New York and she soon was off to Budapest on the arm of Count Anton Sigray. With her went 7 million dollars.

No Income Tax
 In 1895 William K. Vanderbilt signed a contract promising Charles Richard John Spencer Churchill, 9th Duke of Marlborough, a dowry of $2,500,000 worth of railroad stock to help keep his bride, Consuelo Vanderbilt, in the style to which she was accustomed.

The style in those days was magnificent. There was no income tax. The Vanderbilts and Astors and others of the "400" maintained a standard of luxury and social hauteur that passed for aristocracy. The public was fascinated.
 There were as yet no movie queens to symbolize the life of glamor.

Weddings, then as now, gave the people a chance to see the rich and powerful in all their splendor.
 And then as today in Monaco, handling the crowds was a problem. When May Golet, heiress of a New York real estate fortune, married the Scottish Duke of Roxburgh in 1903 the 150 policemen assigned to the wedding were overwhelmed.

"It is scarcely an exaggeration to call it a riot," a New York Times writer reported. "A local disgrace," the Herald commented.
 There were 7,000 women in the street. Fifteen of them slid through the coal chute of St. Thomas Church to get a peek inside.

Churchill's American Mother
 In splendor perhaps no wedding of the era rivalled that which took place in the grand ballroom of Mrs.
 Cornelius Vanderbilt's Fifth Ave.
 mansion when her daughter Gladys married Count Laszlo Secheny of Hungary.

The bridegroom wore the brilliant uniform of a Hungarian light cavalry Hussar. Mrs. Vanderbilt paid $25,000 for orchids alone to turn the ballroom into an immense floral grove. A 70-piece symphony orchestra played the wedding march and the boys choir of St. Patrick's Cathedral sang Ave Maria.

Some international marriages in the era of elegance were made for love, some for money and some for social convenience. Some ended in divorce and some flourished. One of the earliest proved significant in Anglo-American history.

In the 1870's the Brooklyn sportsman Leonard Jerome, toured Europe with his daughter Jennie. At England Lord Randolph Churchill, who wooed and won her. Their union produced the most famous Englishman of a later day—Sir Winston Churchill.

Power Of Reserve To Be Shown

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The growing power of the Army Reserve in Kentucky and the Second Army area will be placed on demonstration this spring and summer when an estimated 38,730 reservists participate in the annual two-week field training exercises.

This anticipated increase of more than nine thousand over last year's figure of 29,418 officers and enlisted men who participated in summer training is the result of the emphasis placed on the Army Reserve program in the seven-state area during the past year.

Stations, some of which are Reservists will train at 18 in-out of the Army area. Camp Breckinridge will train 6,300 and Fort Knox 6,200.

Two Reserve Divisions of the area — the 83rd from Ohio and the 100th of Kentucky and West Virginia — will train at Camp Breckinridge. The 100th will be there from August 12 to August 26.

Last year's encampments produced an average attendance of 92 per cent for officers and 84 per cent for enlisted men. Attention figures this year are expected to be higher as a result of the increasing awareness of the Reserve program on the part of the general public.

The rising rate of attendance in recent years is mainly attributed to the cooperation of business and industrial employers, most of whom have recognized the importance of a strong Reserve program. Some have been awarded to employers in the Second Army area in recognition of this cooperation.

Study Of Religion Up In Colleges

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The study of religion is having a dramatic revival in colleges and universities.

Not many years ago, it was fashionable in academic circles to sneer at religion as an "outdated superstition." Courses in biblical literature, Christian ethics and church history almost disappeared from the curriculum at many institutions.

Today, leading educators report, scoffing has given way to serious inquiry. Religion again is "intellectually respectable." Among students and teachers alike, there is a growing disposition to seek, in the ancient institutions of faith, the ultimate answers that lie beyond the reach of scientific rationalism.

This is reflected in reports such as these:

—Yale, which had 50 undergraduates in religion courses in 1933, now has 500.

—Princeton had 21 undergrad-

CLUB MEETS

Members of the Murray Training School Future Business Leaders of America Club called a special meeting last week. Eugene Smith is sponsor of the club. Jane Cooper, retiring president, presided over the business meeting. Plans were made to attend the State Convention to be held in Louisville April 26-28.

The following officers were elected to serve the club for the coming year: Larry Parker, President; Jerry Shroat, Vice-President; Anita McDougal, Secretary; Gwynn Blacklock, Treasurer; and Virginia Gordon, Reporter.

These officers will be installed in a candlelight ceremony early in May.

Tennis has provided many Iron Country players an avenue of escape. Jaroslav Drobný, former Wimbledon winner from Czechoslovakia, is one who chose freedom permanently after tasting it on a tennis tour.

Tennis star Gussie Moran, famous for her lace panties at Wimbledon, is now a radio commentator on baseball.

Students studying religion in 1940; today the number is 700.

—Weekday services at Harvard's Memorial Church, sparsely attended a few years ago, now attract crowds which overflow from the chapel into the nave. Sunday attendance averages 1,000 compared to 400 in 1953.

—At Smith, the number of girls enrolled in religion courses has doubled since 1950.

—At Columbia, dean of students Nicholas McKnight says the "wide interest in religion among the students surpasses anything I have ever seen here."

—A National Council of Churches survey showed that 1,200 full-time religious workers are now employed by colleges, compared to 200 in 1936. More than 1,000 colleges held religious emphasis weeks last year.

—Cornell sociologists, interviewing 7,000 students at 12 leading colleges, found 80 per cent felt a need for religious faith; only one per cent described themselves as atheists.

There is a comparable trend in England's great universities. Dr. Roy S. Lee, vice-chancellor of the University Church at Oxford, says services are regularly filled with undergraduates and "religion in all its forms is the most significant topic" of student bull-sessions and formal debates.

Honest, Intelligent Inquiry

Tells Ike's View

Many educators are chary of applying the term "religious revival" to the college movement. The prevalent mood, they say, is one of honest, intelligent inquiry rather than of final commitment or conversion. Students are said to be approaching religion courses with the same open-minded, objective attitude they have learned in other academic disciplines.
